Your closest friends and peers shared their thoughts on your "me-ness"

Here are their thoughts...

When others look at you, these are the unique talents you have and the things you do with ease they wish you could as easily?

- Make people feel like they are the one in the room (Special). This is a special gift where you approach others regardless of their age, interest or belief.
- You are an easeful "do-er", meaning when you align your energy and intention you get shit moving and done faster and (at least seemingly) with all sorts of ease. It's like you bend time!
- Your energy – life force! You have this powerful vibe about you that says 'you mean business' and there is nothing to stop you once you set your mind a your heart about something.

Where you sell yourself short? Where you don't give yourself enough credit?

- You have both a playful and commanding energy at the same time, without any effort at all. You assure people you're in control of a situation, allowing them to relax.
- Your passion to jump into a situation and take risks. You are so incredibly bright and that is obvious when you answer questions with incredible depth and insights. I admire how you take risks and jump into challenges with both feet whether it is offering a new course or tackling a new job
- Caring for others, constantly connecting with people/networks, being in-tune with others

If you were a cloud you would be...

- A mountain, because I feel people can depend on you, because you are steady, and super grounded.
- Fireworks. Everyone loves them. They bring joy and we love every one of their shapes, sizes colours and we don't want them to end. You are every one of those fireworks
- I see an ice-cream cloud – sweet, playful, delicious and a treat! My inner child is also smiling as I write this!
